Born into a world that you'll grow to hate
Fall into the system of the church and state
We all have the best intentions
That we all end up faking

This isn't all that I want
This isn't all that I needed
Fuck yeah

So how are you?
Let me guess you're fin
Keep reality on the inside
We all have a resolution
That we never end up making
We're searching for the innocence
But all the innocence is dead
And all the shit you've been through
I've been through it too
I'm fucked just like you

Look into the hole of all this wasted life
It is full of souls overcome with strife
And death was a great solution
That we all end up taking
