Gun Man

practice makes perfect in a perfect world we practice and practice until we're the best in the world

all asleep in the house of one man's bliss how could electric shock wake me up to this all he ever wanted was to be the king of England bitterness drove the gunman he quit his job so he could wear sunglasses he said I don't believe in bitterness or pain or leather jackets

all he ever wanted was to be the king of England
from his simple life
