[I. LOST INNOCENCE]

Open doors for madness, it's a true defeat
Crying steps of pain for a child who lost his dream
Homosexual fear, alternates the sex
And a crawling snake keeps the truth alive or dead
Empty walls of water, falling from the stairs
And the blasphemy, an anathema for us...

[II. LOST YOUTH]

You asked me why the end is certain now
I told you lies to hide my bitter cries
You gave me smiles to soothe my heart of stone
The answer now, I'll give...

All love is lost
All love is lost, my son
All love is lost
All love is lost, my blood

Once upon a time, the prophecies were false
Now the end is coming closer
The dark walls are falling to devour our souls
Hear their calls...

You asked me why the children lost their smile
I told you lies to steal a breath of youth
You cursed my soul to rot in misery
The answer now, I have to give...

All love is lost
All love is lost, my son
All love is lost
All love is lost, poor boy
