

Soul Circumference "Wind City"

Visit "Wind City" on MotoLyrics.com

Wind city brings a warm breeze to my mind.
Drinking in all the thoughts that I can find.
Crowded streets suited people with clearer brains.
Taking back all the feelings combined it pains.

Walking down the ridge of an imprint deeply laid.
Along the edges of the cloth the threads are frayed.
I loved you then, but I did not take you back.
And it ain't easy to erase to get on track.
The wind is blowing and the gods stare down on me.
To bring me down come around that THC.

Call on me for you to see the tie-breakers low.
I can't believe that I would chance this on my own.
You will see.
Trust in me
You're not alone.

Tide is turning got a place to make a stop.
From the store out the door watch the feelings drop.
Amplifier sounds ringing endless on this plane
Lick your wound I assumed to be your bane.
The day is dawning and my bed smells just of me
Another night flying high on LSD

Call on me for you to see the tie-breakers low.
I can't believe that I would chance this on my own.
You will see.
Trust in me
You're not alone.

Visit Soul Circumference page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.