[Intro]

(I'm free!)

Son you gotta just hit it hard

You gotta do it right baby

No bullshittin

[Chorus]

(I'm free!) You free now, are you really?

How free, since when?

You free now, are you really?

How free, since when?

[Blueprint]

Tryin to get a free mind, in these free times

But I only feel free when I freestyle

Any other time, money's on my mind

Can't be free when I'm a slave to free enterprise

Some of us don't get it, we think it's copacetic

Got some free love and ended UP in a FREE clinic

Some free medicine, a free prescription

Some people think bein free means bein unprotected

It ain't right to me, somebody lied to me

When they said that the best things in life are free

It don't seem to be that cool bein free

Cause man brings anything free to its knees

We cut down trees, 'til everything's extinct

Then build free-ways over where they used to be

It's like a free-for-all that keeps me amazed

In the land of free, home of the brave

[Chorus]

[Blueprint]

Let freedom rain down on this whole nation

Full of freemasons and fiends freebasin

Friends freeloadin lookin for a free meal

Girls that got in the club free just to steal

Homeless people think they free, I think it's funny

Cause freedom is a joke when everything costs money

You can't even fuck for free, that's out of the question

Prostitution is the world's oldest profession

Independent women claimin free, could of fooled me

If that's true why you let dude buy you drinks?

It might seem free, cause you didn't pay

But dude who bought you that, he tryin to get laid

Freedom in America, is all about consumption

You ain't free unless you get out there and buy somethin
More spendin, more taxes
More money for our military actions
[Chorus]
(I'm free! ... I'm free!)
