[Refrain]

Right Place Wrong Time, Inside Outside

Young woman with an old mind

Right Place Wrong Time, Just can't understand

Innocent man with big plans

Right Place Wrong Time, Inside Outside

Young woman with an old mind

Innocent man with big plans

[verse 1]

I remember when you held my heart like a child

Restin in the comfort of your smile

Life was an instant

Love was an infant

But now everything is distant

You live ten minutes away from me but every telephone call feels like long distance

You say that you're being straight with me but every question that I ask you is met with resistance

It's hard for me to mind my business

It's even harder for me to not be suspicious why you tryna hide where you been,

Telling me you been out kicking it with your friends?

But I can tell something ain't right

I stayed up and waited for your ass all night

You walked in the door before daylight make up messed up smelling like fareignheit

I don't know how I put up with it this long but don't worry, I'm gone

And when you wondering where I went

Don't worry, I'm gone

[repeat all]

[refrain]
