[Chorus: Blueprint - rpeat 2X]

Take your time young man
Don't you rush to get old
Keep it in your stride
Live your life, live your life
This goes out to everybody, movin too fast
You do slow down
Yoo many people just runin face first into confrontation
Ehen its not even neccesary
You need to think about your actions
I've ben there I don wanna go back
None of y'all - nobody's goin home
For I, I try not to walk the beef route
But everybody wanna speak out Forgot when I was younger
Cats try to knock your teeth out
Slap you in your mouth piece
Until some blood leaks out
As fast as they rolled on you, they will be out Have you bunny hopping fists is everytime you them a block from your house
But you walkin the scenic route
I've seen cats take it to the max pull their heaters out
But this is rap, so it ain't what it should be about
There's a lotta ways we can settle our differences Whatever you choose let me know what your decision is Talk on the telephone or clash in front of witnesses Tweaks swords with sentances until your pride blemishes
So you actin like you want it but iknow your frontin
Cuz you the type of cat that starts static over nothin
With a chip on your shoulder like the world owes you somethin
Mad cuz your name got cold and wasnt buzzin slowdown

[Chorus]

You got an appetite for destruction
Cool, we can break bread
Whatever you feel, we can break legs
I make sure all your dawgs get fed
But talk is cheap, and I'm concerned about what ain't said

I seen cat's outnumber mine three to one
Sellin wolf tickets and thinkin we had won I knew they didnt have to fight like us when we was young Cuz we was chasin them cats down the street when they was done
You aint hard cuz you can kill in a song
Hard is being a man and admittin you were wrong
Hard is be squashin my beef with you
Cuz if I dont I might be six feet deep with you
It benifits nobody, not me or you
You can get got and they can get me too
I'm man enough to admit it now, life is changin
And we need to slow down
[Chorus]
