

Soul Sanctuary "Game Of Conviction"

Visit "Game Of Conviction" on MotoLyrics.com

I've been judged by society, Condemned to die, the verdict's guilty.
But you won't show your face, living with the choices made.
Been to hell and back again, no matter what I do, I can't win!

Well maybe life is just a game where the rules never
stay the same, in a second everything can change.
How life disappears before our eyes, but yet we still try
and deny.
We're all running out of time. Let's live before we die.

Now I'm trapped in purgatory, I can't lie, I enjoy my misery.
The hands been dealt, the chips are low and we've gone all in before the flop.
Everyone has everything to lose and now all bets are off.

Well maybe life is just a game where the rules never
stay the same, in a second everything can change.
How life disappears before our eyes, but yet we still try
and deny.
We're all running out of time. Let's live before we die.

I can see everything, you can see everything.
We can see everything, everything will burn before our eyes.

Well maybe life is just a game where the rules never
stay the same, in a second everything can change.

Well maybe life is just a game where the rules never
stay the same, in a second everything can change.
How life disappears before our eyes, but yet we still try
and deny.
We're all running out of time. Let's live before we die.

Visit Soul Sanctuary page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

