Say you'll never go away lie to me and tell me that you'll stay i believe every word you say
say you'll never go away
the greatest generation made the nation a better place where's your great war? you let me down.
there's no wrong its all right you can do it just give up the fight and settle down you say you say its over you say you've won but its not over its just begun the greatest generation where is jesus?
you let him down
now he can't save us and I can't take away his crown since you ran him out of town greatest expectations stuffed in the junk drawer I have no respect for you anymore
the greatest generation made the nation a better place for everyone but me
