I can't find my favorite coffe cup
The only one I have that holds enough
All of the other ones
Seem ugly to me
That's just another thing
To add onto a long string of misery

I just bought a suitcase
And the zipper just got stuck
It seems the more you spend on things
The more they get messed up
Nothing's half as good
As the store says it will be
That's just another thing
To add onto a long string of misery

Misery loves company
Is there anybody here with me?
Misery loves company
Is there anybody here with me?

Who cares about sincerity
Life is a catastrophe
Misery loves company
Is there anybody here with me

All my friends and family
Are growing old so fast
All the easy parts of life
Are so far in my past
Nothing's half as good
As the store says it will be
That's just another thing
To add onto a long string of misery

Misery loves company
Is there anybody here with me?
Misery loves company
Is there anybody here with me?

Who cares about sincerity

When ife is a catastrophe
Misery loves company
Is there anybody here with me
