I have been plucking out your eyeballs
Like a greedy eager crow
I'm like a brick that comes smashing
Through the window of your soul

I am the guardian of perception
I am the avatar of sight
Let me blind you with the vision
Let me show you the light

Come crawl inside my head
Come crawl inside my brain
Come get a touch of strange

I cast a candle light shadow
And I'm flickering on your wall
I got a cathode ray gun shooter
And a crystal dreamer's ball

I am the father of creation
I am the mother of the fall
I've got the wisdom of the ages
And I'm waiting for your call

Come crawl inside my head
Come crawl inside my brain
Come get a touch of strange

Whispering the dreaming shadow out of time
Lurking in the darkest crawlspaces of your mind

Come crawl inside my head
Come crawl inside my brain
Come get a touch of strange
