A reckless mind
Could ruin this whole day
She'll destroy every inch of light
And feed off my pain

A second chance
Is it even worth my time?
I'll call it quits till something fits
Lay this guilt in my mind

If someone ripped the sky in half
Would you blame it on me?
It's raining down, god help us now
Lighting strikes every tree

With any luck you'll be with me
When the car losses control
Now, that you're gone, my life's been fixed
I think I saved the world

If someone ripped the sky in half
Would you blame it on me?
It's raining down, god help us now
Lighting strikes every tree

With any luck you'll be with me
When the car losses control
Now, that you're gone, my life's been fixed
I think I saved the world
