White winter skies on your skin
Dead mirrors in your eyes
Don't wait for me to come and crawl
Don't wait just take these pills
And make it all better
And make it all go away

Cut silence with the sharp scissors
Blow brains through secret walls
Don't wait for judgment day to come
Don't wait just take these pills
And make it all better
And make it all go away

Your bleeding heart will break these walls and stain
Alone
Cause I have seen you dancing on the field of glass
Before

Dark nights
My werewolves seeking for the pain again

Again and again
One straw for both us
Again and again
I see your blood sign
Again and again
With your head in my hand
Again and again
