If you get out in the drivin' rain
Stand in the eye of a hurricane
And never think twice

If you turn your back on selfishness
And your thoughts are for someone else
'Cause they changed your life

That's how you know it's love
That's how you know it's meant to be
When the span of forever
Just never seems long enough
That's how you know it's love

When your heart insists that you give it all
When you no longer fear the fall
And you just let go

When the past is finally dead and gone
Fate leads you somewhere to the one
That has your soul

That's how you know it's love
That's how you know it's meant to be
When the span of forever
Just never seems long enough
That's how you know it's love

No part of you questions, no part of you doubts
You're only sure this is what love's about
Nothin' and no one can stand in your way
Or keep you from sayin' what your heart is dyin' to say

That's how you know it's love
That's how you know it's meant to be
When the span of forever
Just never seems long enough
That's how you know it's love

That's how you know it's love
That's how you know it's meant to be
That's how you know it's love

That's how you know it's love
