Yes we all
Are from another world
We're alone
Having such a power
Something new Happened to the people welcome to the new world
There was another world far away
Where lived some men, men like us
They were really too clever, their Power destroyed their world, they Wanted to leave home...
To a new world
They had been travelling for a long time
When suddenly, they saw a

Really beautiful planet,
It was blue with white velvet,
These men fell in love with...
This new world
The planet was full of creatures,
But it would be Called no man's land
Yes they were the only
Men living in all this peace
They were the only beasts...
Able to think
