I'm gonna sing a song you should have heard before
About this dream you used to have of this new world
Where people fight to be seen
And where a poor girl could become a movie queen
If she showed her ass on the screen
If you really want to survive
Then you know you've gotta realize
We cannot lead their way of life
We cannot afford to pay their price
(U.S.) It's the fascist pride
(U.S.) Where the human died
(U.S.) We can't stay so blind
(U.S.) It's the country of pervert mind
They've got to know we don't want to be as they are
That their naggin', their fucking' now have been too far
We won't ever be at their feet
We're fed up with being sent back to our seats with their dough and with their shit

Let me tell you I'm fucking bored
To hear their name everywhere on the street
To see their plane crashed with kids on board
And to cry for the people they beat
I have just sung a song I should have made before
About this dream I'm sure you can't have anymore
Unless you want to fight to be free
Then stop believing in their power their glory
They're just good for making slavery
If you're not a cop, a soldier
Then you can understand it's high time
We cannot see them as savers
We cannot afford to pay their crimes
