There goes my childhood
There goes all I thought was true
With the friends I knew and the ones I left behind

And there goes my heroes
And all that I used to trust
With the ones I cursed and the ones who crossed the line

But I believe I've found
A better way to satisfy
Yeah, I believe I've found
A better way to satisfy your kind

There goes my heartache
There goes all my troubles too
With the dreams that flew and the ones who let me down

And there goes my ego
And all that I had to share
With the ones who cared and the ones who said: That's mine!

But I believe I've found
A better way to satisfy
Yeah, I believe I've found
A better way to satisfy your kind

And if I will make it I don't know
And if I will hate it I don't care
As long as you're not afraid to get by

There goes my life
And all that I had to face
With the human race and the children of denial

But I believe I've found
A better way to satisfy
Yeah, I believe I've found
A better way to catch your eye

Yeah, I believe I've found
A better way to satisfy
A better way to satisfy your kind
