"A Woman Like That"

When she walks into the room
She walks into your life
And the memory of her face
Is gonna haunt you through the night
When she comes in your direction
Better realise the cost
All that you believe in's gonna suddenly be lost

CHORUS

A woman like that is gonna bring you some pain
She's gonna wind you up, gonna mess with your brain
She'll spend all your money and drive you insane
Why do I wanna a woman like that?
A woman like that

She wants to take you down
She wants to take you in
You follow like a fool
You think that you can win
Will the spell be broken
When the light around it shines?
Promises you made are still pounding in your mind
