I dont care anymore
If I let u down
I believe that I need to be free
I'm to so used to my life with you around
I dont know anymore the real me

And I thought that I found myself today
And I thought that I had control
All the chains in my life just fell away
For a moment I didn't need you

All these tears that ive cried you
Must be tired of taking care of me but It's what you do best and im a liar
Cuz really its what i need

And I thought that I found myself today
And I thought that I had control
All the chains in my life just fell away
For a moment I didn't need you

Someone like you
Someone like me
Maybe its chains
That set you free
free...

And I thought that I found myself today
And I thought that I had control
All the chains in my life just fell away
For a moment I didn't need you
And I thought that I found myself today
And I thought that I had control
All the chains in my life just fell away
For a moment I didn't need you
