Fear fall hard like rain again washing over me
You say nothing will ever change what do I Believe
You fall deep inside again nothing left to see
Weakness fills your heart again you put it to Rest

Forfeit everything because you were never
Strong enough
Close my eyes again and pray that life will not Give up

I try to see your face again a photograph for me
Your voice calling out again nothing left for me
You try to find your place again waiting just to Breathe
Weakness takes your heart again you put it to Rest....locked inside again

Did you forget about the things I said
Fight the lies inside your head
Deny those who try to bring you down
Kill the pain and emptiness
Find a love and lose yourself
Without this life you're just a memory...locked
Inside again
