might have been a while since you've been loved like you should be loved

since you've been kissed like you should be kissed tender lovin' arms might be something you miss well summerbreeze is blowin' through your window and summerbreeze is blowin' through your hair and something in your eyes that you cannot disguise don't tell me it ain't there

by one who really loves you it might have been a while since you could trust that someone really cares were people like us meant to go 'round in pairs?

summerbreeze is blowin' through your window summerbreeze is blowin' through your hair something in your eyes that took me by suprise don't tell me that it ain't there
