Yeah! Whoa!
Well, I remember the sparks that flew,
In the summer of '79.
My brother went wild for a pretty girl's smile,
But he didn't care that she was mine.
We fought each other like never before,
And beat 'til we were black and blue.
And when we told her it was time, she'd made up her
mind,
She said, "I've had it with the both of you!"
That was when the pact was made.
That no woman could sever,
We swore it brother for the rest of our lives.
We would stick together forever 'cause . . .

Two heads are better than one,
It's double the pleasure, baby, triple the fun.
I said two heads are better than one,
It'll make you come undone,
Two heads are better than one.

Well, we found ourselves in Vegas, the city of sin.
We were restless and looking to play,
When this little blonde dolly in the hotel lobby,
Blew a kiss as she walked our way.
She said, "I'm feelin' kind of lonely," and gave us a
wink,
Feeling bold we expressed our intentions.
We said, "you gotta have both,"
She said, "That's a joke!
It takes two just to get my attention!"

Both to share and share alike,
That's a part of our lifestyle.
So I'm gonna tell you, baby, just where we stand,
If you won't love us both,
It ain't worthwhile because . . .

Two heads are better than one,
It's double the pleasure, triple the fun.
I said two heads are better than one,

It'll make you come undone,
Two heads are better than one.

We've come this far together,
It's too late for turning back.
But it's only fair to warn you,
That when you rock with the boys,
You never go back! Oh no!

Two heads are better than one,
It's double the pleasure, triple the fun.
I tell ya two heads are better than one,
It'll make you come undone,
Nothing's better than . . .

Two heads are better than one,
It's double the pleasure, baby, triple the fun.
Two heads are better than one,
It'll make you come undone,
Two heads are better than one . . .
Two heads are better than one . . .
Two heads are better than one . . . .
Whoa-whoa-whoa, baby!
Two heads are better than one . . . .
Two heads are better than one . . . .
Woo-hoo-hoo!
