Was a Night So Dark and Cold
You Know My Life Was Getting Old
So I Thought It Would Be Sweet
To Do Something That Can't Be Beat
Took a Ride Out to Your Place
Just So I Could See Your Face
Then I Went Around Your Yard
To Wake You Up Would Be So Hard
I Can't Sleep, I Can Not Rest
All I Want You Are the Best

All I Ever Wanted to Do Was
Sing to You

Didn't Know If It Was Right
Had to Wake You Up At Night
Had to Tell You What I Had to Say
Thought I'd Found the Proper Way
So I Got Up On Your Roof
Didn't Know It Was a Goof
Must Have Knocked Three Times Or Four
Thought I Heard You Hit the Floor
I Stood There and no One Came
Wondered If You Felt the Same

All I Ever Wanted to Do Was
Sing to You

What I Did I Thought Was Dear
Didn't Know It Was Your Fear
How Was I Supposed to Know
You Know This Made Me So Real Low
So Finally Someone Did Come
Show Their Face Did I Feel Dumb
You Got Scared and Got Your Dad
You Told Him and He Got Mad
I Got Grilled the Point He Made
It Was to Late to Serenade

All I Ever Wanted to Do Was
Sing to You

So I Trudged Out of There
Off My Perch Way Up Where
My Life Just Isn't Fair
But By Now I Know You Don't Care
Never Did Sing That Song
What I Did Was Not Wrong
Won't Talk to You For Long
Guess I Was Wrong

As My Feet Hit the Lawn
Heard the Voice of Your Mom
She Is Scared She's Filled With Fear
I'll Go Get Her You Wait Here
You Spoke to Me Out of Haste
Now I Know This Was a Waste
You Told Me You Didn't Want Me There
So I Won't Come Back I Swear
But I Thought As I Left You Land
I'm Never Going to Sing Again

All I Ever Wanted to Do Was
Sing to You

Sing to You
