They said you were cool, so i wanted and waited to find a way into your life
they said you were cruel, a heartbreaker, love taker comited to playing your games but you just said a mouth full, I'm a hand full, a risk you're not committed to take and life's not a game that you play it's a choice day by day which doors open and which ones to close

Come on and sleep with me
I want to see what all the fuss is about cause you're breaking my heart
when we're two beds apart

a way into your life
I'm just a fool, my heart open, now broken and tired of playing your games
Cause I just stare and you don't care
You say this love will go nowhere
You say you're not committed to change Seems everything that you don't want Is something that I haven't got I wish you were committed to change

Come on and sleep with me
I want to see what all the fuss is about
cause you're breaking my heart

And I don't think that you know what love is And I know that this is But I'll never be the one who begs to be between your legs again

Come on and sleep with me
I want to see what all the fuss is about
cause you're breaking my heart
