Heavenly fire, cold dark rain, I'm feelin' so low won't you play it again There'll be tears of sorrow, tears of strife, runnin' hidin' through the long hours of night Hard to live, easy to die, makes you want to get down on your knees and cry How many times have you felt this way, how many times have you heard them say
It's a heavenly fire, cold dark rain, I'm feelin' so low, won't you play it
again
There'll be tears of sorrow, tears of strife, runnin', hidin' through the
long hours of night
Lived the life you sang about, carried me through when I had my doubts Now there's an emptiness inside of me, all I've got left is your memory Tired and weary, you're not alone, still searching for the way back home Further on we'll meet again someday, these are the last words that I heard you say
It's a heavenly fire, cold dark rain, I'm feelin' so low,
won't you play it
again
There'll be tears of sorrow, tears of strife, runnin', hidin' through the
There'll be heavenly fire, cold dark rain, I'm feelin' so low, won't you play it again
There'll be tears of sorrow, tears of strife, runnin', hidin' through the
long hours of night
There'll be heavenly fire, cold dark rain
