Six more days and I'll be gone
Get on the train gonna take me home
That ol' train where I belong
Home's gonna feel just fine
That ol' train's gonna move me down the line

Yes, I know him and you do too (You do too)
There's a lot he can do for you
He'll build you up and bring you down
Plant your feet right back on the ground
But you're so mixed up
Your head keeps spinnin' around

Who'll see the light of day
When darkness comes gonna wash it away
Pretty soon we'll realize
Who hides the truth behind an alibi
And there's so much inside the both of us
There's no reason to hide or justify

Just to love and satisfy
To love and satisfy
To love and satisfy
To love and satisfy
To love and satisfy
To love and satisfy
To love and satisfy
To love and satisfy
