[Chorus X2]

Where my dogs is at the one that'll bite your ass to pieces

Where my cancers at the one that'll cut your ass to shreds

[Cool breeze]

Hey

Ya'll better look out, coming to ya'll neighborhood soon

A lil east point vet and they call him Freddy Calhoun

When he was growing up on the block they caled him cutta

And said if cool can't cut her, he must've came with her brother

He was born and raised right in Martel Homes

he moved to cleveland avenue and then washington road.

that's when he saw his partner cash first working a triple beam

they cut up hundred dollar slabs and sold them 2 for 15 hey his partner had it moving, they had the whole trap bumping

he had everybody's hands out, hey let me hold something

Check it, his oldest cousin sold his partner a potato and he played it he went and got his oldest brother and thought they was gone pay em.

he took his strap out his waist and handed it to big sleigh and stepped right up in his face and said hey playa you cake

[Chorus X 2]

Now everything cool, Hey fred what's up

Now they daping him down and letting him fire up the blunt

But playboy I thought I told you that if you ever played him sweet

Everytime your family see him ya'll gone see him with some cleats
Now you calling up Pauly tell him tell breeze Everyting gone be steady playboy, let's get this chesse
But see Pauly, he can't help you, cause Pauly ain't know the name
And anybody from his block if he do dirt, gone say his name
And if a smoker ever went and told the folks that they was rolling
Man they'd go and get him drunk and break him off like they ain't know him He met this pretty girl by the name of michelle and her mother had a condo in camelot, on the L so he went over her crib to try to try her but at the crib it wasn't happenin
so he cool cool cut her in the back of National 7

[Chorus x2]

[Whild Peach]

She had it all, she was a princess, she married a king they lived in camelot happily

[Chorus x2]

[Whild Peach]

Finally realized one thing in my lifetime, that I die for something,
and I hope it's something.
Even though it hurt so bad on the inside, Imma make feel so good on the outside cause I found something that's really something something, something
