

Spacehead "Why"

Visit "Why" on MotoLyrics.com

Every time I ask you why, I welcome all your silly lies Tell me what I wanna hear, I just can't let you disappear
I give you time, I wait for you
I am asking you to think it through
For you it's just an easy game
And I only have myself to blame

I am waiting for the answer
But I know I'll never hear a thing

And still I wonder why...
I see you as my enemy
And still I wonder why...
My life ain't what it used to be

Try to make me understand
Give me reasons if you can
It hurts to see you turn away
And yet you say you wanna stay
How can you deny your pride
When you are so messed up inside
Is it you or is it me
Or could it be my destiny

I am waiting for the answer
But I know I'll never hear a thing

And still I wonder why...
I see you as my enemy
And still I wonder why...
My life ain't what it used to be
