All I have to give to you is my love
All I have to offer you is me
I wish that I could give you more than just my love
The world and its treasures, the sun, the moon, the stars above
I'll build you castles towering to the sky
We'll be next door to heaven
You and I
Until these things come true
My love will have to do
This is all I have to give to you
I'll build you castles towering to the sky
We'll be next door to heaven
You and I
Until these things come true
My love will have to do
This is all I have to give to you
