I'm hidden from your words today
Invisible to the world
I don't care what you've got to say
I'm under a blanket
Nothing can get in

I'm thinking softly with falling rain
Oblivious to all that goes by
I found a place where I feel safe
Somewhere that I can
Escape to a clearing

You can't see
The inside of me
The inside of me
You can't see
The inside of me
The inside of me

So when I'm all alone
It's just me and who I am
It's like being in a dream
Being hidden in my head

The stars above are what capture me
Far from us all
There's no limitations to what I can be
Inside is crying
But you can't hear it

You want us to fight, look in my eyes
Its as far as I can see
No one knows what I feel inside
So don't tell me anything
I'm not listening

You can't see
The inside of me
The inside of me
You can't see
The inside of me

The inside of me

So when I'm all alone
It's just me and who I am
It's like being in a dream
Being hidden in my head

I think about what's gone
And what I still have left
But no one else can see
What's hidden in my head

So when I'm all alone
It's just me and who I am
It's like being in a dream

I think about what's gone
