A sea of star dust a cool midsummer breeze

The dew of orchids, the rustle of the leaves

The quiet magic of silhouetted trees

What could be more beautiful

The hush of evening so peaceful and so still

The brilliant glow of the moon beyond the hill

The sudden song of a lonely whippoorwill

What could be more beautiful

What could match that moment when

The dawn paints the sky

Setting of the scene before

The birds start to fly

To want to please and then to learn I do

To dream you need me and have my dreams come true

To know you love me as much as I love you

What could be more beautiful

true

To know you love me as much as I love you

What could be more beautiful
