Oh love Iâ€™ve been unwise blinded by my foolish pride and my bed is wet with my tears and feels the pain I feel

Oh love now what is left in my hands pictures that tell of unfinished plans if I gave myself from the start we wouldnâ€™t be apart

If I listened to my heart I wouldnâ€™t cry today
If I listened to my heart I wouldnâ€™t feel this way listened to my heart I will listen next time

And now I feel like a child scared and lost in my darkest night I built a wall of silence that is too high to climb leaving you there behind

If I listened to my heart...

And now I know that Iâ€™m the one to blame
I didnâ€™t know what I was throwing away
I want you I need you but now itâ€™s too late
