"Why Are You Leaving Me"

We had a special love baby but love's never black or white and now you're trying to let me down easy but I'm too afraid to fight Oh even though I'm going to die inside

Why are you leaving me now why are you hurting me now I'm gonna break down
why are you leaving me, leaving me now

And no more cosy nights watching you my baby and no more getting lost in your arms and now when I ask you why baby the man that used to drive me wild looks back at me like a little child

Why are you leaving me now
why are you hurting me now
I'm gonna break down
I would do anything is I knew how to bring you back now

Break down with a big upset keep on smiling though your eyes are wet keep talking it's not over yet keep going until there's no regret
