you think you?ve become such a man but you don?t impress me you tell me stories from the can but you can?t arrest me you thought that I would be your fan but you?re just like the rest and I?m all you hoped to be and way way more so you?re the man in here?

you say you?re the man in here?
you don?t look like a man to me and here?s some paternal advice for free punk!

don?t try to dictate what I?m to do don?t even think about it those who tried and survived are few might think about it I ain?t got time for barbie dolls like you just think about it you are just a poser in some fancy clothes

so you?re the man in here?
you in need of money you run to daddy

and I am the papa
and I am the papa

this is my place this is my home I put my mark on it so don?t try to teach me my own song cause I?m the best at it I?ve been running things for way too long I was made for it you push me round you go down I?ll put the weight of a planet on your shoulders you?re not a man to me

you?ll never be a man to me I know you wanna be but you?ll go from wannabe to has-been

and I am the papa
and I am the papa
don?t fire me up cause you don?t know what you?re starting

and I am the papa
and I am the papa
I?m your great great grand-mother-fucker wow!

oooo, I am the papa, oooohh Oooo, I am the papa
