You can't hide who you are from yourself
So what's the point of trying?
You're not fooling anybody here
So what's the use in lying?

Compromise
All you talk about is compromise
It's starting to make me sick
You can only hide inside for so long
Just come clean with yourself

And it's time
To face
The real you

And if you asked me
I would say it's time to let it go
This shit is getting old
And I don't know how much anyone can take

Compromise
All you talk about is compromise
It's starting to make me sick
You can only hide inside for so long
Just come clean with yourself

I won't be the one who's there to catch your fall
I can't be the one who has to watch you fall
I won't be the one who's there to catch your fall
I can't be the one who has to watch you fall

It's time

Time to face

The real you
