"Hammer And Nails"

Visit "Hammer And Nails" on MotoLyrics.com

You take a hammer, you get some nails, you build a home

Find a woman put that woman in that little home

But without love, true, true love in that home

Yes, without love, that little home just ain't a home

You cheat a little, you leave your baby all alone

You bend the nails, you walk the boards in that little home

"cause without love, true, true love in that home

Yes, without love that little home can't be a home

Yes, without love in that home

There ain't a hammer big enough

So when your nights of fun are through

Don't be surprised to find yourself there all alone

"cause without love, true, true love in that home

Yeh, without love that little home just can't be a home

Yeh, without love that little home just can't be a home
