"Without A Word Of Warning"

Without a word of warning my life has begun
Without a word of warning two hearts beat as one
From out of nowhere you came to me
A breeze passed by whispering your name to me

And without a word of warning, strange as it seems
We kissed and with that kiss you invaded my dreams
I don't know how it happened out of the blue up above
You came along to answer my song of love

I don't know how it ever happened out of the blue up above
You came along to answer my song of love
