You have no life, you're sentenced to fate
You had the time but now it's too late

Close your fucking eyes and listen to me
Your wisdom's useless

You have the right to know the answers
You had the time but it's now or never

Close your fucking eyes and listen to me
Your wisdoms useless

Change your little mind and listen to me
Don't look right through me

Change takes time, but not if i can't hear you Change your mind, there's nothing for you now but to think about the past

Change this broken world and listen to me
Your wisdom's useless

Change your fucking mind and listen to me
Don't' look right through me

Change takes time, but not if i can't hear you
Change your mind, there's' nothing for you now
But to think about the past
Change takes time, but not if i can't hear you
Change your mind, there's' nothing for you now
