Well we took some time
Cause it takes some time
As sometimes these things do
But you're still here
And we're still here
So what happened to the proof?
It's a (simple) question of priorities
And the decisions that we make
That define the shit we talk
And all that shit that we take (daily)

I'd like to think that I'm not dumb
And that you're not a stupid fuck
But accidents will happen
And some folks have no luck
With a fair interpretation
Of the signals that we send
Well, I'd rather seize the moment
Than waiting for the end

Chorus:

I would never claim to understand
Me and my people
But that won't change a thing
Me and my people
We've been proved and we've been bad
Me and my people
So here's a thing Yeah, just one thing
I always forget to say
You're all a bunch of assholes
And you're always in the way
So if you see us coming boy
You know you better run...
Don't forget the fun

Chorus:

I would never claim to understand
Me and my people
But that won't change a thing
Me and my people
We've been proved and we've been bad
Me and my people
