Summer arrived on the back of a mockingbird. it sang a sweet melody, but couldn't seem to find the right words. I don't know if you've heard, but it's all over town, yeah they're buzzing about it now. I was singing alone when the mockingbird came to me, perched on my windowsill, and hummed along quietly. but before long she was singing along, and she said, yeah she said:

"I've been waiting so long for these words to come out, It's practically all I've been thinking about. So thank you for finding the words I couldn't find on my own, Now I'm not alone."

Autumn was on it's way and summer was on it's way out; the mockingbird told me: "I change with the seasons," and that she was leaving town in a few days now. we said our goodbyes, and I secretly wished for more time, but the seasons are merciless. for a while we both stood in silence Until she said:

"I've been waiting so long for these words to come out, It's practically all I've been thinking about. So thank you for finding the words I couldn't find on my own, Now I'm not alone."
