Faint footsteps on the pavement
I park in the distance and jog to your apartment
I never anticipated this influence
Unexpected impulses we never could have predicted

Do you believe in coincidences?
We seem to lack resistance...

Have you ever wondered where this goes?
Have you ever followed this train home?

There's a partition between instinct and judgment
But it's not thick enough to distinguish
Nonsense from reason

What is my reason?
What is yours?
I don't know my own intentions

Have you ever wondered where this goes?
Have you ever followed this train home?
Will we flourish or decompose?
Uncertainty is certainly my motto

Have you ever wondered where this goes?
Have you ever followed this train home?
Will we flourish or decompose?
Uncertainty is certainly my motto
