"Unmentioned"

I stand outside under the clearest sky
Follow you down a road
I'm not sure I want to go
But tonight, I will try anything to change my life
Everyone makes the dumbest mistakes
I guess it's my turn

Can we pretend this never happened?
Can this night go unmentioned?

Her breath still hints of alcohol
But I don't move at all
Feel her lips press
Arm's across my chest
I guess it's too late

Say it isn't true
I'm not really lying next to you
Say it's all a bad dream
It's not really 4:30 in the morning

We'll always have that thursday night
The waterbed
Everyone makes the dumbest mistakes
I guess it's my turn
