

Spires That In The Sunset Rise

"Love Has Found A Way"

Waves are crashing on the sea
Lennons flashing on how would she be
Some are reaching for the gun
Some are searching for all the sun
Love has found another way
I knew it would make it some how (Oh Yeah)
We will find a better way for making love
And love and love has found a way
And love....

Children reaching for a hand
Soldiers killing at every command
Though I've seen this with silent tears
Some will give this with violent fears
Love has found another way
I knew it would make it some how (Oh Yeah)
We will find a better way for making love
And love, love has found a way
And love, love, love has found a way
