Say the things you say
And your dreaming like you do
You know sometimes circles run around you
Hey now lets be honest
I really think it's true
You know sometimes we all bend the rules
You've runned a life
You've been around
You love to live to hate this town
And I hope and dream just like you do
Yeah we've been here twice before
You want it to mean so much more
And I hope that everything goes through

She goes to california, oh
California,not so far
When I close my eyes and wonder where you are
And you wish upon a star
Two thousand miles doesnt't seem so far

You play the games you play
You win sometimes you lose
You know sometimes walls run into you
Now you've got me thinking
And I really think it's true
A sun shines sometimes just for you
Youve runned a life
Youve been around
You love to live to hate this town
And I hope and dream just like you do
Yeah weve been here twice before
You want it to mean so much more
And I hope that everything goes through

She goes to california, oh
California, not so far
When I close my eyes and wonder where you are
And you wish upon a star
Two thousand miles doesnt't seem so far

So far, so far, so far...
