"Secrets In Mirrors"

Lets take our time
We'll make it worth the while
How long? How long?
Speed up and then slow down
But never out of style.
How long? How long?

I've been waiting
Everything is taking way too long
We're gonna love this, hold on
I've been waiting
Everything is taking way too long
And I was wrong all along

Just cut, copy, paste and repeat it
Maybe we can hide the original
How long? How long?
And who needs microphones
When we can sing into mirrors?
How long? How long?
Numbers don't have to lie
How long? How long?
Liars will let those slide
How long? How long?

I've been waiting.
Everything is taking way too long
We're gonna love this, hold on
I've been waiting.
Everything is taking way too long
And I was wrong all along.

From time to time, I hear some secrets
And time after time, I read between the lines

I've been waiting.
Everything is taking way too long

I've been waiting.
Everything is taking way too long
We're gonna love this, hold on

I've been waiting.
Everything is taking way too long
And I was wrong all along.
