Now it's just a few years ago, then I am born
Today I don't remember that I was somewhen a child
Who didn't think about
What all the people have done to this world
We should better watch up for our vital systems
Maybe you can't believe it
Sometimes I wish I was dead
Then I ask myself
How would it be
Where will we go
After all that I know
Is there a god or is he not
That's the question, I wanna know
Sure we must go
But we'll go where and what is there
In a part of my heart I know
That'll be a nice affair
Maybe in my life before
I was a snail and I tried to ignore all the men
Who ran up and down the streets in the town
They all hurried over me and I wished to be more than I was
Because one of them stood on me
Maybe you can't believe it
Sometimes I wish I was dead
Then I ask myself
How would it be
Where will we go
After all that I know
Is there a god or is he not
That's the question, I wanna know
Sure we must go
But we'll go where and what is there
In a part of my heart I know
That'll be a nice affair
Where will we go
After all that I know
Is there a god or is he not
That's the question, I wanna know
Sure we must go
But we'll go where and what is there

In a part of my heart I know
That?ll be a nice affair
