

Splendor

"Log Cabin Fever"

Visit "Log Cabin Fever" on MotoLyrics.com

Downstairs in the cellar drums are beating
Wounded no discomfort emotions bleeding
In the river alone always alone out of my depth
Headlong to the ocean with I sink or swim

Heard them tell the story of mad old Jim Found him in his cabin with his head caved in Waiting out the winter was a little too much for him

It's cold out hear the wind howl down the chimney
Wish I could just cry out to someone, help but we live in isolation of the cruelest kind
Scared to show our colours to the world

Time to break away from my condition
Rejoin the human race, see what I'm missing
Try to face the day my private passion
Is eating me away

Log cabin fever (x3)
It's a remote possibility
Log cabin fever
It's an impossible delivery
Log cabin fever
It's not an impossibility
[repeat til fade]

Visit Splendor page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.