

Splinter "Tied Up In Daisies"

Visit "Tied Up In Daisies" on MotoLyrics.com

In my life of nothing and wanting nothing more I cannot think to raise my eyes to anything at all
A sad thing to offer, shameful if best Something to be understood, but wanting nothing less And I know it should be something that I never should have missed

-

It dies in me
My suffering is too quick to notice new life that grows in me
You moved it deep inside of me, certain and pure
And left me here wondering why you wanted me at all And I know it should be something that I never had before
Tied up in Daisies

-

In my life there's nothing I've ever wanted more To taste you, to offer anything at all

Don't die in me
My suffering won't leave me...don't leave me Inside my hands are shaking, my eyes drawn back in fear
To break me open and notice the blame of the wound you cut in here And I know it feels like nothing that you've ever felt before Tied up in Daisies

-

If my life is nothing, than I want nothing more Take me inside you, trace flowers on your soul.
I want to make you something, you've never seen
before
Open up your heart and tie yourself up in me more And now I'm something that I know you should've never had before.
Tied up in Daisies

Visit Splinter page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

