Sweet dream are always made of this
They're wrapped up in a youthful wish
From the man who sings anthem to the sky
Theres a tower somewhere on the moon
It shines a light inside your room
Can you hear the anthem calling out tonight, hey

No more listening to you
No more feeling this way
You've got this time out
I'm calling time out
You've got this time out
C'mon and shine

I remember singing Sionide
And hearing only fancy lies
From a music box that got that feeling right
There's a wall and a man who lived inside
He found the door and saw the light
I have seen the face of someone pure as white, hey

No more listening to you
No more feeling this way
You've got this time out
I'm calling time out
You've got this time out
C'mon and shine

You've got this time out
I'm calling time out
You've got this time out
C'mon and shine

I learned to shine
I learned to shine
I learned to shine
I learned to...
