The movie's done once more
The mood sets in with lights
Let's wait for them to leave
I was never one for crowds

I look down on the floor
Everything's undone
Yet we've been so much more
Than a full length feature

We long for escape
Let this memory take shape
For the heroes we often see
I don't know if it's me
Or the movies we've seen
I don't remember
As well as I should

I stay so silent with your arms adjacent
And credits may soon roll away

You have my jacket on
Comfort in my warmth
I'm used to the cold
I'm used to the cold

And I hope you'd agree
How this story should be
How I wish I could change the scenes
I'd write on the next page
An early coming of age
For me to tell you
As well as I could

I stay so silent
With your arms adjacent
End credits may soon roll away
Could I stay so silent with
Your arms adjacent
The vagueness may soon come to light

Should

I stay so silent with your arms adjacent
As I play my part in our show

Forever shall I be the ill-fated type
Forever must I be the one you confide to Forever must I be the pages you need
For you to write all the secrets that
You hope I would keep
Forever must I drive you home late at night
After watching these films that seem to imitate life
Forever must I be the opinion you seek Forever will I be the friend that you would keep
